

RELATIONS WITH LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES

A law enforcement officer will contact the principal upon entering a school building. An officer may request and be granted such student information as address, telephone number, parents' names, date of birth and other directory information, if the parent or student over 18 years of age has not filed a written objection to the release of directory information. Student records protected by the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) may only be examined or released following written permission of a minor student's parent or an adult student, pursuant to a court order or subpoena, in response to a health or safety emergency, or in order to better serve the student in the juvenile justice system prior to adjudication.

While the District encourages interrogations of students to take place off school premises, the principal will permit a law enforcement officer to conduct any necessary questioning. The principal will cooperate with the officer while he/she is conducting necessary investigations. The officer will advise and afford a student the same legal rights as an adult and the right to have a parent present during questioning if the student is twelve years of age or younger.

An officer is not required to have a warrant in order for the school to release the student into law enforcement custody. In the event a student is taken into custody by a law enforcement officer, the school will immediately notify the parent or guardian unless directed not to by the law enforcement officer.

If a court has released a student on conditions related to school, including attendance, behavior or progress, the administration will encourage the court to include as a condition of release the written permission of the adult student or parent of a minor student to release the student's records to the court or its designee.

RELATIONS WITH CHILD PROTECTIVE AGENCIES

A child protective services worker will contact the principal upon entering a school building. A child protective worker may request and be granted such information as address, telephone number, parents' names, date of birth and other directory information if the parent or student over 18 years of age has not filed a written objection to the release of directory information. Information contained in the student's cumulative folder and any supplementary records will be available for inspection on evidence that a student is a ward of the state.

Student records protected by the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 may only be examined or released following written permission of a minor student's parent or an adult student, pursuant to a court order or subpoena, in response to a health or safety emergency, or in order to better serve the student in the juvenile justice system prior to adjudication.

While the District encourages interviews of a student to take place off school premises, the principal shall permit a child protective worker to conduct any questioning when child abuse or neglect is involved outside of the presence of parents. Parental notification of the interview shall occur at the earliest possible point in the investigation that will not jeopardize the safety or protection of the child or the course of the investigation. Prior to commencing the interview, the child protective services or law enforcement agency will determine whether the child wishes a third party to be present for the interview and, if so, will make reasonable efforts to accommodate the child's wishes. Unless the child objects, the child protective services or law enforcement agency will make reasonable efforts to include a third party in any interview so long as the presence of the third party will not jeopardize the course of the investigation.

A child protective worker is required to have a warrant in order for the school to release custody of the student. However, if the child protective worker is accompanied by a law enforcement officer, no warrant shall be required. In the event a student is taken into custody, the school will duly notify the parent or guardian unless directed not to by the law enforcement officer.

RELATIONS WITH HEALTH DEPARTMENT

A health department official will contact the principal on entering a school building. A health department official may request and be granted such information as address and date of birth if the parent or student over 18 years of age has not filed a written objection to the release of directory information. Information contained in a student's cumulative folder and any supplementary records will be available only with prior written consent of the parent or adult student pursuant to a court order or subpoena, in response to a health or safety emergency or in order to better serve the student in the juvenile justice system prior to adjudication.

While the District encourages interviews of students to take place off school premises, the principal will permit a health official to conduct a confidential interview with a student suspected of being a contact with an individual infected with a communicable disease when the interview is to be held during school hours, and the principal chooses not to release the student to travel to the health department
